Important information for cloud software users

You will no longer need your AUSKey to interact with us through SBR-enabled cloud software. However, you must notify us of your hosted SBR software service provider before 31 March 2016. You will only need to notify us once.

If you use Standard Business Reporting (SBR)-enabled cloud software you will no longer need your AUSKey to interact with us. Instead, you must notify us of your hosted SBR service provider by 31 March 2016 in compliance with AUSKey terms and conditions.

Do I need to complete a notification?

We have asked cloud software providers to advise affected clients to complete the one-off notification, and delete AUSKeys previously shared with them. Contact us on 1300 85 22 32 if you are unsure, or still being asked to share your AUSKey.

How to notify us

To complete the one-off notification, you can either:

- log into Access Manager using your Administrator AUSKey and follow the steps to notify us
- phone 1300 85 22 32, prepared with the following information:
 - registered agent number or your Australian business number (ABN)
 - the ABN or name of your software provider
 - your unique software ID (provided to you by your software provider).

Do I need my AUSKey for other services?

Yes. Currently this change does not affect desktop software products or logging into portals, the electronic commerce interface or any other AUSKey-enabled products.

What has changed?

Cloud software providers can now set up one dedicated device AUSKey which eliminates the need for you to register, upload or maintain an AUSKey in your software. Your software provider can advise you if they are offering this service.

What will happen if I don't complete the notification by 31 March?

If you don't complete the one-off notification and continue to lodge with a shared client AUSKey after 31 March 2016, your AUSKey may be revoked .
